

As a resident of Greater Cincinnati, I have had the privilege and pleasure of listening to the regional station, K-LOVE, on 104.3 FM for several years. I believe that the FCC should take whatever steps necessary to ensure that K-LOVE is not displaced by an LPFM which may not provide edifying family-friendly music and programming. This regional station had impressed me with its commitment to keeping its listening audience connected to pertinent events in the Greater Cincinnati area as well as offering music and programming that I can share with friends and family who live elsewhere. Diversity and quality of programming are well-represented in K-LOVE, and I encourage the FCC to ensure that this valued voice is not silenced in any of the communities it serves.
